Jordan is an experienced litigator and trusted adviser who provides practical solutions for businesses and individuals in a diverse practice that spans bankruptcy, commercial litigation and family law.

Over more than two decades, Jordan has assisted a wide range of clients including banks, commercial and residential landlords, contractors and subcontractors, homebuilders and small business owners.

Commercial Litigation

Jordan represents and defends businesses in contract claims and the full range of commercial disputes, from collections to complex.

He is well-versed in litigating claims involving trade secrets and confidential information. He has represented employers seeking to enforce restrictive covenants and has defended individuals in such claims.

Family Law

Jordan handles a broad range of family court matters. He has advised and represented individuals in:

- divorce
- equitable distribution
- custody and visitation
- alimony and child support
- legitimation
- domestic violence
- premarital agreements

Bankruptcy and Restructuring

Jordan has extensive experience in bankruptcy and restructuring. He has represented creditors in seeking relief from the Bankruptcy Court stay, as well as foreclosures and adversary proceedings. He also advises clients on creditors meetings and the effects of bankruptcy on leases and other contracts.

Trust & Estates

Jordan is a member of the firm's Trust & Estate Law & Administration practice group and is experienced in providing individuals and businesses with the full range of estate planning needs.

He drafts wills and trusts, as well as powers of attorney and health care directives.
