Ryan co-chairs the firm's Antitrust Practice Group and focuses on complex litigation and arbitration, antitrust, class actions, white collar criminal defense and regulatory compliance matters.

He represents a variety of clients in commercial litigation matters in the pharmaceutical, consumer product, financial services, logistics, transportation and entertainment industries. He advises institutions and companies in connection with federal investigations and provides strategic legal counsel in civil and criminal proceedings involving potential antitrust violations, money laundering, insider trading and violations of the Foreign Corrupt Practices Act, among others.

In addition, Ryan advises clients on handling data breach incidents, including how to comply with notification procedures under various state laws, as well as assists with internal investigations to discern what happened and how to prevent future breaches.

Before Fox Rothschild

Prior to joining Fox, Ryan was an associate at Cleary Gottlieb Steen & Hamilton in New York. While there, he was selected to participate in a four-month externship program with MFY Legal Services, Inc., where he represented low-income tenants in New York Housing Court.

Before launching his legal practice, Ryan worked as a paralegal specialist for the antitrust division of the U.S. Department of Justice. He is also a former investment banking financial analyst for a global investment banking and asset management firm in Chicago.

During law school, Ryan served as comments editor for the Penn State Law Review and was President of the Student Bar Association.

Beyond Fox Rothschild

Ryan is extensively involved in the Philadelphia Bar Association, currently serving as a member of its Board of Governors and Chair of its Federal Courts Committee, working directly with the members of the Eastern District of Pennsylvania judiciary on matters affecting the bar. Ryan also previously served as Vice Chair of the Federal Courts Committee, where he was responsible for planning the 2020 Federal Bench Bar Conference.

Ryan is currently a member of the Board of Directors of the First Tee of Greater Philadelphia, an organization dedicated to teaching young people life skills using the game of golf as its teaching platform. He has planned and led numerous fundraising events to help financially support the organization's critical mission, which reaches 40,000 young people on an annual basis. Ryan was also a founding member and the first Chair of the First Tee of Greater Philadelphia's Advisory Board, a group comprised of young professionals interested in assisting the organization.

In addition, Ryan is the Immediate Past President of the Holy Ghost Preparatory School Alumni Association, where he is also a member of the school's Development Committee. He also founded and led his alma mater's first ever Holy Ghost Day in 2021, which raised more than $80,000 for the school. He is currently serving as Chair for the 2022 Holy Ghost Day.

Ryan also is a member of Community Legal Services, Leadership Council, Bar Division, where he helps raise money to fund the legal service organization's critical mission of ensuring low-income individuals can secure access to justice.

Ryan previously served the Arthritis Foundation in a variety of volunteer leadership capacities. He was the statewide Chairman of its Pennsylvania Advocacy Committee and a former Chairman of the Board of Directors for its Eastern Pennsylvania Chapter. Ryan has also served as the Chairman of the Philadelphia Walk to Cure Arthritis, which raised hundreds of thousands of dollars during his tenure. During his many years of service with the organization, he coordinated the logistical details of more than 270 Arthritis Walks across the country. Ryan was honored by the Arthritis Foundation in October 2018 as an "Arthritis Warrior."
